Hunter Brooks Watson Memorial Fund

2024

This publication paid for with a gift from the Watson family

OUR VISION

YOU MAKE THE POWER OF YOUNG IDEAS POSSIBLE

Hunter Watson

Your gifts made it possible for Hunter's Fund to provide funding for 12 creative young people in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines to launch ideas that may not have been possible without some financial assistance — ideas that could impact us in a positive way tomorrow.

In addition, Hunter's Fund partnered with the Girl Guides to spread awareness about distracted driving to young people throughout the country.

These successes come from your steadfast support. One hundred percent of donations from Mustique are used on programs in the area. Your donations have ignited sparks in young minds and saved lives on the road.

Please consider renewing your support. With your help, we can continue to make a difference in young lives.

OUR COMMITMENT TO YOU

We are deeply honored that you have placed your trust in the work of Hunter's Fund. Our volunteer staff works hard to keep overhead costs low and to make the most of every dollar you donate. When you give to the Fund, you can give with confidence knowing that your gift will propel young people's dreams and help to end distracted driving.

Responsible Sea Moss Farming

A Follow-up Report

Business succeeding because of your support

Here's an update from an ambitious young Grant Winner from the Caribbean island of Bequia.

Tavio Simmons (shown above) was a beneficiary of a Hunter's Grant, using funds raised locally, helping him realize his dream of exploring the future of sea moss farming.

With help from a local non-profit organization in 2020, Tavio received training in sea moss farming, providing him with the knowledge he needed in sub-surface aquaculture and the potential for the local economy for this efficient farming method already successfully tested in neighboring islands.

Upon launching his business, a grant from Hunter's

Sea Moss is a red seaweed found along the coasts and is prized for its health benefits.

Rich in vitamins, minerals, and antioxidants, traditionally used in foods, remedies and skin care products.

Fund provided Tavio with scuba diving training and scientific data collection equipment needed to improve the yield and quality of his sea moss.

Here is Tavio's 6-month Report on his efforts.

Six-Month Grant progress report

"Our initial methods, featuring a simple yet innovative combination of rope and recycled bottles for flotation, have been upgraded thanks to the grant from Hunter's Fund.

Now, we employ robust pipe frames and effective cement-made anchors, ensuring our sea moss farms resist strong ocean currents. These upgrades have enhanced our operations and drawn significant interest from tourists and locals alike."

HUNTER'S FUND UPDATE

MUSTIQUE 2024

OUR VISION

To live in a world where our youth may follow their hearts.

OUR MISSION

Hunter's Fund has dual missions in support of young adults. The first is to provide resources to help advance the dreams of passionate, curious young people.

The second is to reduce deaths and injuries from distracted driving by increasing awareness among young drivers and gaining their commitment to change.

Hunter Watson's Birthday Interviews: A short film by Ted Watson

For over 20 years, Jerry Watson conducted annual interviews with each of his sons, Hunter and Teddy, on their birthdays. Through these interviews, Jerry attempted to capture the highlights of each boy's year.

This was no easy feat! Getting the young boys to sit still for the hour-long interviews was always a challenge. Jerry would find them crawling on furniture and even on top of his head during the early years. But the effort resulted in over 30 hours of video memories of school, sports, friends, hobbies and their goals for when they grew up. The last video was recorded when Hunter was heading off to college.

Tragically, in 2016 Hunter passed away at age 20 as a passenger in a distracted driving accident.

The family realized the birthday videos were a treasure trove of memories but the problem was finding the most meaningful moments from among the many hours.

Hunter's brother Ted gamely volunteered to review the footage and spent a week closeted with his brother's videos. He has rarely spoken about the emotional impact of this experience but after a week emerged with an elegantly edited 10 minute film titled simply "Hunter Watson's Birthday Interviews."

Family and friends felt Ted had captured Hunter's essence – funny, thoughtful, engaging and impatient. The film was shown at Hunter's packed memorial service to powerful reactions.

Since then, "Birthday Interviews" has only been viewed in private. But in order to introduce new volunteers to Hunter, Hunter's Fund is now testing the film as part of Hunter's Fund Safe Driving Weeks.

"Birthday Interviews" has become a cherished way for family and friends to remember Hunter Watson.

We offer it here to the Mustique Community Hunter loved and which was such an important part of his life.

The compilation video can be seen here at <https://vimeo.com/363191194> or at the QR Code above.

Day trips to St. Vincent

BEFORE YOU SET OUT:

The roads in St. Vincent can be a challenge. Taxis and guides are a good idea, and are readily available for a fee. These suggested locations could take an entire day to enjoy and explore.

The lush tropical island of St. Vincent offers captivating natural beauty and serenity. Known for serving as a primary filming location for the Pirates of the Caribbean movie franchise, this Caribbean gem has plenty to offer visitors. A day trip allows you to experience top attractions.

You could begin your nature-filled day by driving north to Dark View Falls, nestled deep within the island's vibrant rainforests. This stunning two-tiered waterfall cascades down high cliff faces, plunging into pristine natural pools below. Walk along the bamboo bridge spanning the tumbling river as you approach for a closer look. Take a refreshing swim in the cool pools surrounded by lush greenery. Let the misty spray wash over you as you relax near the base of the falls. The tranquil setting amid unspoiled tropical wilderness makes Dark View Falls an ideal spot to commune with nature.

Or, drive up the winding roads along the island's scenic windward coast to reach Belmont Lookout. From this vantage point, marvel at the panoramic views of the rolling hills and valleys of the Marriaqua countryside. On clear days, you can even spot the neighboring islands of Bequia, Baliceaux, and Battowia dotted along the glittering Caribbean Sea. Breathe in the fresh ocean air as you take in the sweeping island vistas.

Alternately, explore the diverse botanical wonders of Montreal Gardens. Lush tropical flowers and plants flourish throughout these gardens, with a river running through the grounds. Your guide will lead you along meandering pathways under canopies of leafy vegetation. See rare indigenous species as well as imported flowers from around the world. The vibrant colors and textures surround you with natural beauty.

The day could also be spent by driving inland through rainforests to reach La Soufrière, an active volcano and the island's highest peak at 4,048ft. While carefully maintained trails lead up the mountain, take in the epic views of the volcano's sheer crater walls and steaming fumaroles from a safe distance. Admire the raw power of nature displayed before you.

With its wealth of unspoiled tropical landscapes, scenic vistas, and serene natural attractions, a day trip immerses you in the magnificent beauty of St. Vincent.

Return home feeling refreshed and rejuvenated after a day escaping into the island's natural splendor.

The Red Book

a complete history of Grants and Awards

Last Spring Hunter's Fund published the first Red Book, showcasing the young people who have been funded by Hunter's Fund.

Thanks to the generous support of our donors the Red Book serves as a written and permanent testament to our impact on these lives.

These grants and awards have already made a significant difference, with many recipients having achieved their goals, while others are well on their way. We should be truly grateful to be a part of this transformative process.

Now available online as a stunning online flip book, you can flip through the pages, read the stories, and learn more about the ideas and achievements of these young people, all from the comfort of your own screen and at your own pace. Visit <https://www.hunterwatson.org/red-book>.

To ensure that donations continue to be dedicated for these grants and awards, the publication was made possible by a special donation from the Watson family to cover the cost of this first Red Book. We hope there will be many more to come.

overcoming challenges, and building a successful and sustainable sea moss business in St. Vincent and the Grenadines.

We're taking strides toward business registration, effective branding, and rigorous market research to scale our business and offer our products internationally.

Looking ahead, we have outlined a few key objectives:

Phase 1 - We aim to launch a fully operational website with redesigned product packaging.

Phase 2 - We hope to replace our row boat with a proper motor boat to aid our operations.

Phase 3 - Our vision is to establish a climate-smart facility for processing, packaging, and preparing sea moss for distribution and export.

I want to extend our gratitude to the supporters of Hunter's Fund. Without you, none of this would be possible.

We're confident that our team will reach new heights in their venture with your backing.

Thank you for being a crucial part of this journey.

Your support and Hunter's Grants build on Gladwell's 10,000 Hour Theory of Success

Hunter practicing guitar at Basil's Bar.

"We overlook just how large a role we all play – and by 'we' I mean society – in determining who makes it and who doesn't."

That's an excerpt from journalist Malcolm Gladwell's best-selling book "Outliers: The Story of Success." Throughout Outliers, Gladwell argues that the most successful, high-achieving people in the world – from business tycoons and multi-millionaires to Nobel Peace Prize winners and famous artists and athletes – reached the pinnacles of success not solely through self-will or innate talent, but through a series of outside factors and lucky life circumstances.

One of Gladwell's theories says that it takes 10,000 hours of "deliberate practice" to achieve mastery in any field. According to his theory, anyone who practices a specific skill for 10,000 hours – or 20 hours a week for 10 years – will become world-class in their endeavor.

But more often than not, young people without strong financial resources and support systems lack the time and energy to devote themselves toward developing their skills and passions – leaving success out of reach despite their innate talent.

"Today many parents are not even able to provide for the education and basic needs of their children. They are hesitant to give a talented son or daughter extra help without taking away from the needs of their brother or sisters," says Jerry Watson, co-founder of Hunter's Fund.

Hunter's Fund frequently receives applications from young people seeking funds to purchase the necessary equipment to practice their skills and develop their creative projects. Many of these applicants have dedicated their free time to refine their crafts but found themselves unable to make progress without the right tools.

"One applicant could not afford the cost of equipment to make a demo of his songs. We provided him with recording equipment so he could accomplish this on his own schedule and at the same time learn the art of mixing his music," Watson says. "Two years later, he was awarded a recording contract from Epic Records and is now on tour where thousands are enjoying the music he dreamed of sharing."

Through financial aid and dedicated mentorship, Hunter's Fund is working to empower young people to pursue their intrinsic passions, find fulfillment in their work, and inspire a new generation of creative thinkers.

Spotlight on: Grant Winner Oshakie Gittens

Area of Interest: Video Gaming

Grant for: Vincitech, an independent video game development studio

In 2022, video games were a $200 billion-dollar global industry.

Oshakie Gittens

Now, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines native Oshakie Gittens wants to bring a piece of the pie to North Union, his home village on the island.

Gittens has spent the last nine years honing his game design and coding skills as a self-taught computer programmer. Now, with a track record of successful launches behind him, Gittens is preparing for a venture of his own: an independent gaming studio called Vincitech.

"A gaming studio will ultimately provide an opportunity for us to showcase these ideas and concepts to the world, creating more recognition for our little nation," Gittens says.

Oshakie's grant from Hunter's Fund will fund new computer equipment and software assets for Vincitech.

Charity Begins on Mustique

The proverb, charity begins at home, dates to the time of the Roman comic playwright, Terence (about 190-159 BC). Over the years, the definition has evolved. In 1383, John Wycliffe wrote: "charity should begin at himself." Five hundred years later Dickens said, "charity begins at home, and justice begins next door." The Cambridge Dictionary definition is "you should take care of your family and other people who live close to you before helping people who live further away or in another country."

Charities on Mustique are the embodiment of this proverb and are engaged in a variety of activities to serve different needs of the local population. Hunter's Fund applauds their work while it continues its focus on: saving lives through its distracted driving campaigns and encouraging entrepreneurship through its grant programs. Here's a list of the charities which are actively working to improve the lives of the local population:

Basil Charles Educational Foundation – started in 1996. The Foundation started a scholarship program to help offset the cost of secondary education and make it more accessible to those in need. Additionally, funds support early childhood education and a STEM summer program. Most of the funding comes from the revenue generated by the annual Mustique Blues Festival.

Hunter's Fund – established in 2016 by Hunter's friends from Mustique who were devastated by the loss of their friend Hunter Watson who died as a passenger in a distracted driving accident. They wanted to help young people from St. Vincent and the Grenadines who had visions of something they wanted to be but lacked the resources to explore those dreams and whose parents worked so hard to make this paradise possible. Funding for the Mustique program is provided exclusively by visitors and homeowners who come to our beautiful island and want to help fund the dreams of these young people.

Mustique Charitable Trust – founded in 2008 and funded by the homeowners of Mustique. The mission is to improve the opportunities of children, young people and vulnerable adults while supporting the development of sustainable local communities throughout SVG. The Trust aims to coordinate and enhance the charitable giving of the Mustique community.

Mustique Educational Trust – established 30 years ago by Mick Jagger, Basil Charles and Ouida Touche, it was founded to establish a primary school for the children of Mustique and secondary school support for the children of those who work on Mustique. Additional activities include the provision of interest-free loans for post-secondary education, adult education programs such as literacy, math, computers and skill training.

Mustique Medical Trust – In cooperation with Dr. Michael Bunbury, the Trust provides funds for emergency services for the local population. Funded primarily from donations from grateful patients and others who value the availability of emergency services.

SVG Environment Fund – founded a couple of years ago by Bryan Adams, is a non-profit dedicated to supporting the most effective environmental projects and campaigns. The Fund gives grants to both organizations and individuals actively engaged in the region, and with its partners, works to protect and restore the natural environment and influence locals and visitors to be more respectful of their surroundings.

Flashback to 2021: Girl Guides Association Partners with Hunter's Fund to End Distracted Driving

EDITOR'S NOTE: This story first appeared in the 2021 Mustique Newsletter.

Hunter's Pledge to End Distracted Driving is coming to the community thanks to a new partnership with the Girl Guides Association of St. Vincent and The Grenadines.

The Hunter's Pledge program was developed in 2016 as a way to encourage young adults to change their driving behaviors. Throughout each school year, participants at colleges and universities across the United States set up tabling events where students are encouraged to sign a pledge committing to avoid distracted driving. In total, 20,000 students have signed the pledge. (Today the number has grown to 60,000.)

Chevelle Campbell, Chairperson of the Junior Council for the Girl Guides Association of Saint Vincent and The Grenadines, said that distracted driving education is especially important in the lives of young adults on the island.

"There are a lot of distracted drivers on the island," Campbell said. "Especially teenagers who just got their license and they drive recklessly, always on their phone and always texting. They're not paying attention to how dangerous it is."

With approximately 2,300 members in St. Vincent and The Grenadines, the Girl Guides program encourages young girls and women to become agents of change by speaking up and taking action on important issues in their communities.

Through the partnership with Hunter's Fund, the Girl Guides will encourage community members to sign the pledge to avoid distracted driving.

"In St. Vincent and the Grenadines, we struggle with safe driving, especially college students and public transportation," Campbell said "They contribute to a high percentage of accidents relating to distracted driving... safe driving should be encouraged more in the community."

While the pandemic and social distancing requirements postponed the majority of in-person events planned by the organization, Campbell said that Girl Guides members throughout the region have participated in virtual activities in order to keep their causes alive.

"We were unable to meet face to face," Campbell said. "However, it allowed us to take advantage of the internet by posting activities for all members to take part in."

Keep an eye out for pledge signing opportunities with Girl Guides throughout the island, and visit hunterwatson.org to find out how your organization can get involved.

Vice Chairman, Artist, Friend

Madeleine Bunbury grew up on the island of Mustique, where she became best friends with Hunter Watson. Today, Madeleine travels the world painting renowned horses, found in leading stables. Whenever her work brings her to the US, she always makes time to visit the Watson family, who she remains close to. She is also the Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors for Hunter's Fund, a role she fulfills through Zoom no matter where in the world her painting takes her.

Recipe

Ingredients:

2 tablespoons of coconut oil
1 large onion, finely chopped
3 cloves of garlic, minced
1 scotch bonnet pepper, seeded and minced (adjust to taste)
1 pound of callaloo leaves, washed and finely chopped
1 cup of dasheen or taro leaves, chopped (as a substitute for callaloo leaves if unavailable)
1 cup of fresh pumpkin, peeled and diced
1 cup of fresh coconut cream

4 cups of fish stock or water
1 pound of fresh fish (red snapper or kingfish), cut into chunks
1 sprig of thyme
Salt and black pepper to taste

In a large pot, heat the coconut oil over medium heat. Add the chopped onions and sauté until they are soft and translucent.

Incorporate the minced garlic and scotch bonnet pepper, and sauté for another minute.

Add the callaloo (or dasheen) leaves, stirring until wilted. Then add the diced pumpkin and continue cooking for a few minutes.

Pour in the fresh coconut cream and fish stock (or water) and bring the mixture to a gentle simmer.

Gently add the chunks of fresh fish and thyme to the pot. Season with salt and black pepper to taste.

Let the soup simmer for about 20-25 minutes, allowing the flavors to meld together and the fish to cook through.

Taste the soup and adjust the seasonings if necessary.

Once the soup has reached the desired consistency and flavor, remove it from the heat.

Serve the Callaloo soup hot, ideally with some traditional hard dough bread or bakes.

Callaloo (pronounced kalalu) soup, a cherished culinary gem, finds its roots in the heart of Caribbean cuisine while tracing its origins back to West Africa. This rich and flavorful dish, with its vibrant combination of ingredients, epitomizes the cultural fusion that defines the Caribbean culinary landscape.

Will Organizer – FREE

In our mission to support young adults and their parents, we believe in equipping families with the tools they need for all aspects of life, including estate planning.

One of the most fundamental tools for this is a will.

To help you navigate this essential yet complex topic, we have put together a 36 page brochure titled "Your Will Organizer."

This 36 page guide aims to demystify the process of creating a will, provide answers to common questions, and underscore the importance of having a well-planned will for your family's peace of mind.

To receive a Free copy of this Will Organizer, simply visit the URL below or scan the QR code to "request" a printed version or you may "download" a copy for your immediate use.

Remember, preparing for the future isn't only about the opportunities and dreams we foster in our children; it's also about ensuring they are well-cared for, even in our absence.

Thank You for making a difference!

If you sometimes wonder if the support you've given to Hunter's Fund has made a difference, the answer is in the responses we've received from our grant winners.

You may have never personally met any of these innovative young people, but your generosity has helped each of them turn their dreams and passions into reality.

We wish there was a way for each of these innovative young people to be able to thank you directly for helping them move forward in projects that mean a great deal to them, and that just may have a significant impact on our world.

You may not know a great deal about computer technology and robotics, but one of the grants you've helped Fund on St. Vincent is enabling a young man from an impoverished background to further his studies and research in that area, research that may affect us all in the future.

You may not have earned a commercial pilot's license, participated in a conference on international relations and conflict resolution, or established a charity to support research and education for people suffering traumatic brain injuries, but the grants you have helped Fund have enabled the innovative young grantees to do those things and so much more.

You may never have met Hunter Watson in his too-short life, but his tragic death as a passenger in an automobile accident did not end the love so many people had for him, or the admiration for his talents and passions in so many areas.

The Hunter's Fund Grants Program was established to carry on Hunter's legacy and his interests. We hope to continue making that possible with the help of your generous gifts.

So, please accept our thanks to you from the Fund and the young people you have helped support. If you make a gift, please know that you are making a difference.

Many Interests – One of a Kind

At Hunter's Fund you are supporting young men and women of diverse interests and talents, so they can let their passions shine.

The inspiration and our mission come from Hunter himself. He was a young man of extremely diverse talents and interests. Wherever he went, whatever he did, he brought a spark and a smile and a contagious energy that inspired those around him.

And while his life was too short, and the hurt that those who loved him feel will never fully heal, there is a peace that comes from knowing that Hunter succeeded in getting the most out of every day he lived:

As a boy and a young man ... Hunter lit up the lives of his mother, Judy, his father, Jerry, his older brother, Teddy, and all his extended family.

As a friend ... Hunter cultivated deep and lasting relationships and will never be forgotten by those who knew him best.

As an athlete ... Hunter loved baseball, soccer, football and wrestling, excelling as an individual while always striving to lift up his teammates.

As a musician ... Hunter formed his first band at age 10 and never stopped loving, playing and performing music. (You can watch a video of Hunter's Black Out Band playing their song "Video Games" on YouTube.)

As a student ... Hunter graduated from Potomac School, enrolled at Syracuse University and joined Phi Kappa Psi, learning and growing and making new friends each year – while never forgetting his old ones.

As an entrepreneur ... Hunter worked with area nightclubs to encourage teens-only, no-alcohol nights which he then managed and promoted. He was also beginning work on his own technology-based business.

As a person ... there will never be another Hunter. While he had many interests, he was one-of-a-kind. Thank you for supporting Hunter's Fund, so that young men and women with talent, energy and passion can have a chance to follow their dreams... just as Hunter did every day.
